A WHIRLWIND OF BALLOTS

The Result of Special Votes Offered For New Subscribers To The Jeffersonian.

The Popular Young Ladies "Get Busy" and 152 New Subscribers Are Added During February—297 Since January 1st. Miss Nicholson Again Takes The Lead.

As a result of The Jeffersonian offering 1,000 extra votes with each 10 new subscriptions during February, 152 new subscribers were added to our large list, making a total of 297 received this year. The young ladies, however, waited till the last day to send in their largest lists, and all day Friday and Saturday the contest editor was kept busy making out the receipts and awarding ballots. It was a perfect whirlwind! Miss Lillian Netherton, of Worthington, started the ball to rolling by sending us thirty; then came the two Misses Hoke with large numbers, and to keep the good work going Miss W. H. Nicholson sent in with thirty-six bright silver dollars and requested us to please see that she got as many hundred votes, with 300 extra. Of course, we complied with her wishes, as we did the others, and as a consequence quite a number of changes have taken place in the standing of the candidates. Miss Nicholson again taking the lead and Miss Netherton, who has been running in fourth and fifth positions, taking second place. Miss Betty Hoke, of Harrods Creek, deserves special mention for the work of her friends during the past month. Miss Mary Hoke, who has held first place for several weeks, drops down to fourth position, but she has hosts of friends who say that when the final count is made on March 31, their favorite will be "right there with the ballots."

BRIGHT YOUNG GIRL

A young girl, who is ill of pneumonia, is convalescing, after several weeks illness. Mrs. C. G. Hikes, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to attend her Sunday-school Sunday. McClure Hoke has the contract for furnishing stone for the new Bourbon Stock Yards, of Louisville. A boxing party will be given Wednesday, March 11, at the home of Mrs. Jacob Driver, for the benefit of the orphanage. The Mary Walden Junior Builders held their monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. Carrie M. Whistler, Sunday, March 1. A large number of members and visitors were present. A brother of the late Anton Busath, of Buechel, fell dead of heart trouble at his home in Louisville, last week. Miss Edie Seay, who has been visiting her brother, J. B. Seay, for a few months, will let this week for Harrodsburg to be with her parents for a short while. Fiedling Frederick spent a few days last week with his cousin, Hewitt Hunsinger, near Jefferson town. Miss Bern Launert is spending several weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Frey, near St. Matthews. Louis Yarns is very ill of pneumonia. He has been sick for more than three weeks. Dr. C. G. Groves is attending him. Dr. H. P. Stivers has about completed his beautiful new home near Fern Creek. He has named it "Hill Top." Miss Ethel Gentry is very ill of whooping cough and pneumonia at her home near Fern Creek. J. B. Held, proprietor of the Union Store, at Fern Creek, left last week for Missouri, to be gone several weeks. There is some talk of his moving there with his family. The three children of Robert Miller, living on the Groves' place, are ill of tonsillitis. C. D. Miller has almost completed his house and barn and has begun to move his family there. Little Adelaide, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Stivers, is ill of whooping cough. Dr. H. P. Stivers and James Bryan are building an addition on the farm for the sheltering of his stock. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Frey moved to their new home today. John Launert is helping them. Dr. H. P. Farmer will leave soon for California on account of the former's health.

JOSEPHINE SCHNEITER

Little Miss Schneiter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schneiter, of Jacob's Addition. On January 24, her thirteenth birthday anniversary, she passed the examination graduating from Jacob Addition School, District No. 72, of which Miss Katie Seewy, of Jefferson town, is the teacher. At the time of her examination she had not missed a day from school in four and a half years. This is a most remarkable record and both pupil and teacher deserve much credit for the work accomplished. Miss Schneiter has entered the Girls High School in Louisville and expects to make a teacher.

OKOLONA.

March 2—Miss Lizzie Miller, who has been very sick, is much better. Mr. and Mrs. Will Ireland have moved in with his father, Dr. Henry Ireland. Miss Mattie Ireland visited friends in Louisville last week. Mrs. Bettie Stallard, of Anchorage, and Miss Nannie Cora Stallard, of Fairfield, have returned home, after a visit to Mrs. M. F. Gailbreath and daughter, Miss Nannie. Mrs. M. R. Gailbreath, who is ill with congestion of the lungs, is some better at this writing. Mrs. W. H. Beeler entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of her guest, Miss Emma Huber, of Louisville. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Standford Beeler, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. James Cochran, Misses Edna Beeler and Emma Huber, and Andy Beeler. Hiram Cooper visited friends at Malott Sunday. Miss Angie Starks returned home from Malott Monday, where she has been teaching school. Mrs. J. B. Thorne also closed her school at Liberty last week. Herman Williams, of Louisville, visited his parents Saturday and Sunday.

BUECHEL

Whooping Cough in the Neighborhood—Deaths, Marriage, Socials, Personals and all the News in Brief.

Buechel, March 2.—The county is having some repairing done on the Bardonia road in and near Buechel. The trustees of District No. 10 school, screened and repaired the walks around the house, last Monday and are expecting to erect some buildings.

J. B. Cooney, of Buechel, is building a large barn on his farm near Fern Creek.

Chas. Scoggin and Joseph Rudolph are opening an avenue through their lots, leading to the Buechel coal yards, owned by Chas. Scoggin.

A marriage of interest to Buechel people was that of Frank Hartman and Amelia Bartman, of near Buechel, which was solemnized last week at the Lutheran church, in that city.

Miss Beattie Cummins closed a very successful six months' school last Friday, near Kosmosdale, and is now spending a while with her sister, Mrs. Henry Kaiser, Jr.

Frank X. Singler, father of Mrs. Constantine Brohn, formerly of Buechel, died Thursday, Feb. 27, aged sixty years, at his home on E. Broadway road. The interment was in St. Louis cemetery, on Saturday morning.

The Rev. Tinsley, Mrs. Tinsley and three children, Timothy, Daley Lee and Beattie Clifton, of Clifton, will come Monday to spend a month with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hikes and family.

George Gray, who is ill of pneumonia, is convalescing, after several weeks illness.

Mrs. C. G. Hikes, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to attend her Sunday-school Sunday.

McClure Hoke has the contract for furnishing stone for the new Bourbon Stock Yards, of Louisville.

A boxing party will be given Wednesday, March 11, at the home of Mrs. Jacob Driver, for the benefit of the orphanage.

Compares Fiddling Nero To The Sluggard of Today.

Emperor Played Viola While Rome Burned And the Dicker Bricks While Opponent Slips Away.

Shepherdsville, Feb. 25.—That photograph got me to thinking about music and it's still on my mind. Not photograph music exclusively, but all things—and, was about to say aizes. Some noted men have been great musicians. As a rule a fondness for music indicates a tender heart, but this rule, like all others, has its exceptions.

He performed on his fiddle while Rome burned—can you think of anything to beat it? Imagine Shepherdsville on fire, and the chairman of the board trust sitting on a good box playing the fiddle!—What would happen? The indignant people would lynch him. And would complain.

And yet, this man Nero, who was ruler of Rome, sat upon one of those seven hills and played to beat the band. Being in total ignorance as to the line carried in the repertoire of the average Roman fiddler, I can not with accuracy name the particular tunes rendered by the musical Emperor on that occasion. He may have started off on "Dan Tucker," and after warming the fire department up, landed on the "Arkansas Traveler" or "Stony Point." And who is so bold as to deny that when the fire drove the dark-eyed daisies into the streets, Nero played "Mollie Darling" or tunes to that effect? Even before the fire began, the royal fiddler may have rendered as a voluntary that significantly prophetic selection.

"There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight." Inability to secure copies of the Roman Jeffersonian, or any of the other dailies published in Rome at that time, leaves me in doubt as to what was played or what kind of music was in use, but it is reasonable to suppose that it was the latest and that Nero humped himself in his efforts to furnish enough music to run the fire.

We may also assume that some musical chap accompanied Nero on the guitar or banjo, possibly both, but as Nero and the fire constituted the whole show no mention is made of that fact.

We are told that Nero committed suicide at thirty before he had toured our country, or done any big things with his violin or fiddle, but he made a reputation there that has clung to him with the tenacity of green paint, and while in one sense his musical performances make him appear a little barbarous and somewhat indifferent to the property rights of his people, and the fate of his city, we are forced to admit that he was very picturesque, and loaded to the guards with a sense of the bidding and the burning are going on day by day. The man who drinks away his substance and time is a Nero, and no less so, is the man who spends his time in idleness and all the while the golden moments are burning.

We may look back at the cruel Nero, and learn many lessons from his life. And we may learn this truth: that there are many Neros and many Romes; many ways to burn Rome, but the ways to play the fiddle. J. R. Z.

Best of All. Louisville, Ky., Feb. 23, 1908. MR. EDITOR: For some weeks past I have been an ardent reader of The Jeffersonian, having had a year's subscription given me by a friend, and I always look forward to Friday, knowing I will get that newsy little paper that will give me all the news of dear old

I can't quite express my appreciation of The Jeffersonian, in prose. So I trust you will pardon the liberty I take in writing the enclosed verses, as it is the only way I can express what The Jeffersonian is:

Hurray, for The Jeffersonian, it certainly isn't written by a foney. It gives all the best news of the day From society down to the price of hay.

Hurray, for The Jeffersonian, it's true. I'd rather read it than the daily Times. It's funny and it's witty And as serious and it's witty.

Hurray, for The Jeffersonian, the best paper of all. The Courier, Times, Herald and the Post all fail.

When compared to The Jeffersonian For that's the best of them all. M. A. B. Believe me to be one of The Jeffersonian's most interested readers, MAYME BITTENBACK.

COMBINATION SALES

To Be Held In Jefferson town On The Fourth Monday In Each Month, Beginning March 23, 1908.

It is very often the case that persons have a number of articles to sell but not enough to justify an individual auction sale, and frequently they have surplus stock which would command a ready sale if they could find a buyer, and upon the other hand there are a great many who want to buy a horse, cow or farming implements, etc., which they knew where to get them. Consequently the best plan to get these people together is to have a place to meet, and it is for that purpose that we propose to inaugurate regular monthly sales upon the 4th Monday of each month, beginning March 23.

As we have arranged with Mr. E. R. Sprowl for our auctioneer, who is in position to assure you that it will be conducted in an honest, straightforward, business-like manner.

We have ample room to take care of everything consigned to our keeping, and sales will be made "rain or shine." So, if you have anything to sell, come in and list it with us not later than the 15th of this month, in order that we may be able to get out sale bills and properly advertise same.

Remember, that our first sale will be on the 23d of this month, and we want to have a good one to start with, as our future success will depend entirely upon your patronage. This is a good thing; help us push it along. Our terms are reasonable. Come on with your list. For full particulars see BIRDWELL & CONNELL, Jefferson town, Ky.

HARROD'S CREEK

R. F. D. No. 21. Feb. 20.—Charles Hoke, who has been confined to his bed with grip for several weeks, is slightly improved.

Miss Katherine Johnston has returned home, after a short visit to relatives near Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lantz and sister, Miss Laura Tyler, visited friends in Louisville Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Annie Broyles and brother, Gipson, spent Wednesday with relatives in Crescent Hill.

C. E. Hunt and wife spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. J. B. Clure, of Beards.

A SUCCESS.

Farmers' Institute Accomplishes Much Good. Many Interesting Addresses Delivered—A Meeting Announced To Organize Growers' Association.

The two-day session of the Farmers Institute held in Beck's Hall, Louisville closed Saturday afternoon, and all who attended, or in any way connected with the Institute, were well pleased with the interest manifested. The attendance on Friday was not large, but on Saturday a big crowd was present. Mr. M. F. Johnson, President of the Kentucky State Horticultural Society, presided at the meeting on Friday, and Col. L. B. Hall, former Commissioner of Agriculture, presided on Saturday.

The first address on Saturday was delivered by Prof. Gorman, of Lexington, on Diseases of Potatoes and Onion Blight. His address was pointed and full of common sense. He handles his subject in a masterly manner and every potato and onion grower in Jefferson county ought to have heard him.

Mr. Woods, of the Wood-Stubbs Co., Louisville, urged upon the growers the necessity of adopting a uniform package and also the grading of all fruits and vegetables, which, if put into practice, would greatly enhance the value of all products.

Dr. G. W. Butler, a representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, spoke of the importance of Dairy Cattle. All, and especially the dairymen present, gave close attention and asked questions, to which he gave explanatory answers.

Lowell Roundebush, of New Richmond, O., delivered an interesting address on Horticulture, and from the way he handled his subject he certainly gets around and all over the bushes.

C. M. Hanna, of Cropper, told of the many benefits to be derived from the organization of farmers and growers. He asked that a meeting be held at Beck's Hall on Saturday, March 14, at 10 a. m., for the purpose of organizing a "Truckers' and Fruit Growers' Association, at which he promised to be present with one of the best speakers Ohio could provide.

We insist that all farmers and fruit growers be present at this meeting. E. E. GORMAN.

THE Jefferson County Farmers' Institute held at Beck's Hall, Louisville, last Friday and Saturday was a most enthusiastic one and many interesting questions were discussed. The subject of spraying fruit trees was thoroughly explained and all became convinced that unless they were willing to spray their trees, they had better do the Washington act and be rid of them.

The Tuberculin Test for cattle was also given much attention, it being proven that some cattle are infected with this disease for a length of time without showing signs of it. Among the representative farmers of this community who attended the Institute were Messrs. John and Henry Lauman, Julius Hrohn, A. M. Gregg, J. C. Bruce, Gabe Pounds and Ed Hoke.

It is hoped that these gentlemen will further plans for the Jefferson County Farmers' organization, which was so strongly urged upon them.

MY LAST LOVE.

No, thou art not my first love: I had loved before we met. But the eve of that summer's dream Is pleasing to me yet.

But thou, thou art my last love. My fondness and my best: And my heart but shudders to leave To give thee all the rest. S. D. T.

BRADLEY ELECTED.

W. O. Bradley, Republican, was elected United States Senator last Friday to succeed J. B. McCreary, receiving 64 votes on joint ballot, barely enough to elect. His election was made possible by four bolting Democrats, Senators Charlton and McNutt, and Representatives Mueller, of Louisville, and Representative Lillard, of Boyle county, who voted for him.

A Welcome Visitor.

53 W. 104 St. New York, City, Feb. 29, 1908.
Mr. J. C. Alcock, Jeffersontown, Ky.
Dear Sir:
Some one has been sending us your bright little paper, The Jeffersonian. It is coming to tell you it is a welcome visitor coming as it does from my old Kentucky home.

I am quite interested in the race for the lovely diamond, but of course a Jeffersontown girl should and will win. Enclosed please find postoffice order for one year subscription to The Jeffersonian, thereby adding one hundred votes to Miss Mary Hoke's list.

With best wishes for your success and thanks to the friend who has so kindly remembered us with The Jeffersonian, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
MITTIE VINCENTHILLER COX.

A Pleasant Event.

The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Lucy Kemp surprised her by celebrating her birthday anniversary Feb. 29, at the residence of her father, Mrs. James Trigg near Prospect. Mrs. Kemp received many pretty and useful presents. The table was beautifully decorated with carnations and lilies of the valley; an elaborate dinner was served. Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Kemp and children, Mrs. Sallie Magruder of Goshen, Mrs. Jennie Trigg of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett Mount of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Wessly King and son of Goshen, Mrs. Fannie Huffaker of Louisville, Mrs. Jennie Bottorf of Goshen, Misses Maudie and Mary Pound of Worthington, Mr. Dick Trigg of Harrods Creek, Miss Maggie Clark of Harrods Creek, Miss Lucy Trigg of Prospect, Mrs. Eugene Pernell of Goshen, Miss Sallie Harrold of Louisville, Mr. Richard Hardin of Worthington, Mrs. Will Hood of Goshen, Mr. Wm Pound of Worthington, Mrs. Agnes Doherty of Louisville, Mrs. Bessie of Goshen, Mrs. Sam Polk of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Adams, of Worthington, Mrs. A. Ingram of Prospect, Mrs. Hallie Trigg of Harrods Creek, Mrs. A. M. Morrison of Prospect.

FAIRMOUNT.

Feb. 28.—The marriage of Miss Mittie Ball, of Okolona, to Mr. Otis Moore, of Buechel, was solemnized last Wednesday, Feb. 19, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Sanders. They will make their home at Buechel.

Miss Susie Cowherd and Mr. C. C. Parrish were married at the home of the bride on the evening of the 25th. Harry Anderson, of Iowa, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Sarah Anderson. Jacob Johnson's four little girls, Mildred, Lellie, Edna and Genevieve, who have all been quite ill are rapidly recovering.

Mrs. Irene Brown, wife of Louis A. Brown, who formerly lived at Fairmount, died at her home 401 East Gray street, Louisville, on the evening of Feb. 21, 1908. Mrs. Brown had been engaged in writing a letter to a relative, and handling the letter to two of her daughters to read, complained of feeling very tired, and leaned her head on the writing table.

In a few moments one of her daughters, noticing that she was very pale, went to her side and found that she was dead. Mrs. Brown is survived by her husband, Louis A. Brown, a grocer, at Preston and Gray streets, Louisville, and the following children: Misses Lydia, Irene, Mabel and Metta Brown, and two sons, Arthur and Hays Brown.

Mr. Heskiah Collins has purchased a tract of land from J. A. Markwell and will shortly begin the erection of a residence on it.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fegenbush leave Monday for their new home at Buechel.

DIVERSIFIED ITEMS

Or General Cracks at Creation by a Visitor.

Many writers have for ages, both in prose and poetry, been trying to describe or define a mother's love, but none have ever gotten deeper than the surface of the real meaning—it can not be done—it is something so divine.

Description can but make it less, 'Tis what we know but can't define, 'Tis what we feel, but can't express.

However, Mr. Rogers Gore, in the Springfield Sun, uses mighty strong and bewitchingly beautiful language when he says: "There is something strangely beautiful about this mother love—something that can not be fathomed by the mind of man. It has no bounds; it is as impossible of measurement as the waters of the seas; it is as mysterious as electricity as incongruous as the shining stars in the blue vaults of the skies; as imperishable as the divinity of the Savior of man—it is a part of Heaven, breathed into feminine life thro' the lips of God Almighty."

Two hundred and forty-five pounds of cheerfulness in the person of Mr. R. H. Lindsay visited Jeffersontown Monday afternoon and cast a halo of gladness all around his merry laughter is still reverberating through this section of the Ohio valley. Mr. Lindsay is a teacher in the Sunday-school of the Trinity M. E. church and there were 117 in his class Sunday morning, as inclement as the weather was. On a recent Sunday the number in his class was 117. He is a hard worker in the Epworth League and I heard him pronounce Mrs. May to address the one here in the near future. He is connected with the Spencerian Commercial School, Louisville; hence it is as natural for that institution to thrive as it is for the old-fashioned rose to lift its face heavenward when kissed by the morning dew in the merry month of May.

Everybody is taking a shot at that Mr. O. G. White. But don't mean any harm—Only want to hear him sizz.

MIDDLETOWN

March 2.—Misses Kate Urton, Salie Woodsmall and Alide Yewinwie have returned from a visit to Mrs. Abe Fields, of Louisville. They attended her birthday reception while there.

Misses Irma and Marcia Coward and Lillie Lowenlingburg, of Shelbyville, and Lucy Howell, of Crescent Hill, have been the recent guests of Mrs. Frank Beckley.

Misses Myrtle Johnson, of near Jeffersontown, and Ella Clore, of Louisville, have returned home after a visit to Miss Mayne Clark.

The many friends of Broton Ward to lift its face heavenward when again after a severe illness at University Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Slaughter, son and daughter spent part of last week with Mrs. Talbot, of Shelby county. Miss Dora O'Connor, of Louisville, is the guest of Misses Maud and Kate Burr.

Cardwell and children, Anna Louise, Gladys and Norma, and Miss Lizzie Maddox, of Lakeland, spent Sunday with Mrs. Wm. Hoard.

Mrs. Ernest Corbin has returned home after spending a few days in Louisville.

Mrs. Leonard Jones has been quite sick with the grip.

Mrs. Willie Reed entertained Monday for Miss Emma Yeager and her daughter, Edwae Yeager, of Long Run.

Mrs. Joe Dunn and mother, Mrs. Lou Dunn, spent Monday with Mrs. A. C. Durr.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Worley are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks and daughter, Mrs. Fannie Brooks, of Louisville, are the guests of Mr. Emmett Brooks.

Mrs. and Mrs. Farris have rented one of Mr. Frank's new cottages and will make this their home in the near future.

BUECHEL.

Feb. 25.—Miss Lillian Groves was given a surprise birthday dinner Sunday Feb. 23, by Mrs. J. B. Alley and Mrs. Annie Groves. Quite a number of their friends were present.

Miss Marguerite McCullough entertained in honor of her friend, Miss Lillian Prince, of Jeffersonville, Saturday evening with a little party. Those present were Misses Lillian Prince, Nellie Singleton, Lida Cleary, Penny and Sadie Finley, Virginia, Lillian and Marguerite McCullough, Messrs. Charlie Cleary, William Hite and Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Weller. A delightful luncheon was served.

Mrs. James B. Finley is ill with the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cusick were entertained by Mrs. Lewis Kattie at a six o'clock dinner Monday evening.

Mrs. Dr. P. J. Stivers visited Mrs. James B. Finley Monday afternoon.

Miss Maud Fryer had as her guests Sunday evening, Miss Georgia Fegenbush, Mr. Smith Hunsley and Mr. Fred Hite.

Mrs. Jennie Hays and Bessie Finley and Mr. D. E. Watter attended the theatre Saturday evening.

Mrs. Malisse Nutt spent the week-end with Mrs. Finley.

ST. MATTHEWS.

Feb. 29.—We, the sextons of this place in the outlying district, make our initial bow to The Jeffersonian and its many readers, thankfully accepting the cordial invitation to enlist under its banner and hoping we will be mutually benefited.

When you know that we have an "Old Point" watering place, which is much sought for recreation and supply as the one on the coast, you must admit we are hustling folks.

Nantz & Nantz have already made such progress in their line as to exhibit a miniature Garden of Eden.

Our bank is in excellent working order and extends a hearty invitation to its neighbors and friends to come as be served. All business attended to promptly.

The sick and afflicted, down-trodden and oppressed are all in our "light form" we will call them "on the mend," owing to the unselfish and efficient ministrations of our beloved Dr. Brady.

Spiritual food is given out each Sunday in exactly the right quantity and in true Christian charity by Bro. W. Tharpe.

Everything flourishing where the "cars have come." How long, oh Lord, before we that have hold of the jagged ends of life can say that? Echo answers, "How long?"

What shall I say about us scattered up the Pike? (I must spell it with a capital, so we'll look like something) There has not been even a dog fight.

No marriages, but some coming on. We, the farmers, are gradually coming to life, after the winter rest and taking notice that spring is high.

Our ambition really does soar as high as a corn stalk.

Now isn't it heart-rending to close without even a "delightful story?" Well, some do play "poker" in more ways than one, but it's not.

NOTICE

Pearcy and Coleman, of Middletown, are authorized to collect subscriptions and to take orders for print and advertising. If more convenient see them.

THE JEFFERSONIAN.

Comes-Montgomery.

Prestonia, Feb. 23.—Mr. Thomas Comes and Miss Mattie Montgomery were married Wednesday at St. Joseph's Cathedral, Bardonia, at 8 o'clock p. m. Miss Montgomery is a popular young lady of Bardonia, and Mr. Comes is a prosperous farmer. They will be at home after arch 21, near Bardonia.

Notice To Farmers

The truck and fruit grower of Jefferson county, are requested to meet at Beck's Hall, Louisville Saturday, March 14, for the purpose of organizing an association. Mr. C. M. Hays, of the State Organizing committee, will be present and it is hoped that all farmers of the county, will be present. A well known speaker of Ohio will deliver an address.

Play at Middletown.

Middletown, March 2.—The rural play, entitled "Al Martin's Country Store," will be given by the pupils of Poplar Level School, at the home of Evelyn Hoke, assisted by local friends on Wednesday, March 11, at 8 o'clock p. m. at Masonic Hall, in Middletown. Admission, adults, 50c; children, 15c. Madame Burtelle, of Louisville, will render vocal selections, and an enjoyable evening is promised. Be sure to attend.

Loss Property Sold.

Master Commission R. W. Herr sold at the courthouse door in Louisville Monday, the house and lot in Jefferson county, belonging to the heirs of the late Ferdinand Boss, to Mr. E. D. Bridwell, $1,800. This is a desirable piece of property and went at a bargain on account of being sold in the family. Dr. Ed Boss, of Louisville, purchased the 21 story brick residence at 832 E. Market St., Louisville, for $1,570.

Miller-Aston

Miss Blanche Thompson Miller, of Reservoir Park, and Mr. Edwin Dymond Aston, of Louisville, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Saturday, Feb. 29, at the home of the bride. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and is an accomplished young lady, while the groom is a progressive young business man being a member of the well known tobacco house, Aston, Fisher Co., of Louisville. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Aston left for New Orleans, where they will attend the Mardi Gras and after a visit to Florida will return to Louisville, where they will reside.

It Worked Too Well.

Ben Yates, who lives on the Stark farm near here, was married a few days ago and he met a man selling all kinds of liniments, and he also had something to feed to hens that would make them lay whether they wanted to or not. Mr. Yates was getting some eggs at the time, but he thought he would try a bottle of it. He began feeding it to his hens and it worked so well that it kept him busy carrying in eggs. In fact, his hens began laying at night. Yates became worried about that and went to the telephone and called Maratta up and wanted him to see if that man had anything that would stop hens from laying.

The Benefit Of Advertising.

"If you have a thing to sell, advertise it." That is the advice of one of the most successful business men in the state. A few weeks ago in effort to sell some land in South Florida was made in a roundabout way, but without success. Finally the agent advertised it liberally in the newspapers, and he asserts that he sold the land, but for considerably more than he expected or had offered it for a year previous. People who want to make purchases do not know, very often, where they can be made, and they naturally turn to newspapers.—Jacksonville Metropolitan.

The Jeffersonian has a classified ad column, which is especially beneficial to those that want to buy or sell land, stock, poultry, etc., and invites the patronage of our readers. Many are being benefited thereby; why not you?

EXPLOSION

Of Boiler Used By Contractors In Constructing Electric Railway Seriously Injured Two Workmen.

Buechel, March 2.—Two men were seriously hurt Friday by a boiler explosion near Fern Creek, on the Bardonia road. John Jones, white, and Jim Brown, colored, were working near the engine when the boiler burst. Jones was knocked over by the force of the explosion and suffered a wrench of his back and burns about his hands. The negro's face was terribly scalped. They were removed to the camp and were attended by Dr. H. R. Stivers. It is thought they will recover. Several other employees narrowly escaped with their lives when the accident happened. The men were employed at the cut being made for the Bardonia interurban car at Fern Creek.

THINGS RELIGIOUS.

BY A CHRISTIAN OBSERVER.

The editor of The Jeffersonian has asked me to hand him from week to week such church announcements and items of a religious nature as may be interesting and helpful to his growing list of appreciative readers. I assume this responsibility with some degree of reluctance, conscious of the fact that the clergy, upon my time have been more, already than I have been able to successfully meet. But with the co-operation of the ministers and others of our town and county, whom we here request to send their announcements and items of interest, we may hope to reach people's large number of people with something of practical and religious value, which is not our purpose to inflict upon the people the special claims of any church or creed, but rather to promote an interest in church work in general and advance the interest of Christ's kingdom in our midst.

The union prayer meeting has met with favor upon all sides, and is having a success. No town or community can hope to successfully combat evil in its various forms, without the strength that comes in answer to prayer. And perhaps there is no better idea than that of uniting the Christians of the different denominations into one band of Christian brotherhood where one object is to fight sin and promote holiness of heart and life.

Your worth to society is measured by the amount of influence you exert against sin and in behalf of righteousness.

A creed, the acceptance of which does not make men better, needs to be revised.

Men whose lives are out of harmony with their profession, need the courage and manliness to speak the truth. Personal attacks upon another's character, intended to hurt instead of help, whether spoken or written, will sooner or later react upon their author and then the danger intended for another becomes an instrument of self destruction.

That it is a violation of God's holy law to "sell goods" on Sunday most of us will agree, but do not for conscience sake and truth's sake overlook the fact that it is equally sinful to "buy goods" on Sunday.

Now, church members and Christians, if you are really opposed to Sabbath desecration prove it by making your purchases on Saturday or some other week day, and if possible make them with the merchant who has not renounced his faith in the Ten Commandments.

Union Prayer Services. The subject, leaders and times and places of the union prayer meetings during the month of March are given below:

For the month: "The Plan of Salvation." March 11: at Presbyterian church: "The Kind of a Savior Man Needs" Phil. 2:13.

March 18, at Lutheran church, history of Love and Suffering; Heb. 2:18. Leader, Geo. Schreiner. March 25: at Methodist church, subject "The Possibilities of Life," II Cor. 3:14-17. Leader, Prof. R. H. Snively.

Misses Mabel Tucker and Ora Gunn and Mr. Horace Gunn spent Friday night and Saturday with their aunt, Mrs. E. E. Goode.

"SPECIAL NOTIFICATION."

A Tremendous Sacrifice Sale

THE PUBLIC BENEFITS

THE public of Louisville and the entire states of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana will benefit greatly by Jas. Greene's big purchase of a number of manufacturers surplus furniture and carpet stocks; $185,000 in all, consisting of furniture, of every description, carpets, rugs, curtains, stoves and household goods. Jas. Greene, of Louisville, Kentucky, secured seven carloads of manufacturers' surplus stocks at an unheard of low figure ON ACCOUNT OF THE RECENT CONDITION OF THE MONEY MARKET, THE MANUFACTURERS HAD TO SELL and Jas. Greene obtained the stocks at practically his own price. Jas. Greene says that he proposes to give to the people of LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, OHIO and INDIANA the benefit of his great purchase of manufacturers surplus stocks, by giving the people the most stupendous and most remarkable ten-day sale on furniture, carpets, rugs, curtains, household goods, etc., that was ever given in the State of Kentucky. The entire stocks, direct from the manufacturers, will be sold at such ridiculously low prices that the public will be amazed. This ten-day sale will be without question of a doubt the biggest bargain feast and sale of furniture that was ever given in the South at any time before, or that will ever occur here again. Commercial circles will be astounded at the tremendous bargains offered. It will be a bargain earthquake of low prices on good quality furniture, carpets, etc., that will arouse the people of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana and vicinity from center to circumference. It took great nerve and a big outlay of ready cash to buy this large surplus of manufacturers' stocks for a city the size of Louisville, for, as a rule, these great snaps are usually gobbled up by the largest stores in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, but Jas. Greene says there is nothing too good for the people of Kentucky and vicinity, and he proposes to give the public a stupendous ten-day sale on the above stocks that will be the talk of the entire State and surrounding country for the next ten years to come. It will be a premier effort in value-giving on furniture such as the public will long remember, as never heretofore have our people been able to buy furniture, of every description, carpets, rugs and home furnishings at less than actual wholesale cost of manufacturers.

Jas. Greene's Furniture Building will be closed Monday and Tuesday, 9th and 10th, in order to get these great surplus stocks in readiness for the opening day's sale and the store will not be open for business until the opening day of the sale, which will be WEDNESDAY MORNING, at 8:30 A. M., MARCH 11th. This is no ordinary furniture sale, but one that seldom occurs in any community. Jas. Greene, of Louisville, has certainly prepared for immense crowds of people, having already engaged hundreds of extra salespeople in order to be able to wait upon the large crowds attending the sale during this stupendous ten-day furniture sale. The people of Louisville, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and vicinity have never heretofore had an opportunity of attending such a sacrifice sale as Greene's Manufacturers' Outlet Furniture Sale will afford the public. It is an opportunity which comes to you about once in a lifetime. Let all who possibly can attend this most wonderful bargaining event to replenish your homes. Remember the sale will last for ten days only. MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED same day as received and FREIGHT WILL BE PAID ON ANY PURCHASE TO ANY PART OF THE STATE OF KENTUCKY. This great sale positively opens WEDNESDAY morning, MARCH 11th, at 8:30 A. M. Drop everything—make your arrangements to be in LOUISVILLE, KY, if possible, on the opening day. Be sure you find the right place. Look for the big green and white signs, JAMES GREENE'S MANUFACTURERS' OUTLET FURNITURE SALE, 425-427-429 East Market street, Louisville, Ky. We would advise early morning selections as much as possible in order to facilitate the proper handling of the immense crowds of people who will attend this gigantic furniture sale, which opens March 11th, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AT 8:30 A. M. Be here on one of the ten sale days. You can not afford to miss this sale at Jas. Greene's, at Louisville, Ky. REMEMBER THE OPENING DATE, and if you value money, then prepare accordingly, and you will save many dollars on furniture, carpets, rugs, curtains and your household needs. Sale only lasts ten days, beginning Wednesday morning, March 11th, at 8:30 A. M. and ending Saturday night, March 21st. If you can not come, send your order by mail.

No Station, March the once.
Well, the deadlock is broken—or may be a "golden key" was used.
Just Couldn't Mrs. Beckham is down and out. Won Out Bradley is up and in.

Do you suppose that the Senator's election will make any change in the business of this community? "Nix!"
not even effecting the price of onion sets.

March came in, not exactly as a lion, nor hardly as a lamb, so I suppose we will have to wait some time the ground-hog, goose bone or birthday almanac.

Another month gone and the cars haven't come. Gen. Business still declines to favor us with a visit until that auspicious event occurs—that is Carn Come.

During one of the recent cold and disagreeable days, a young man driving a team, stopped at the heat on, and being ready to go, he asked the clerk if he had any grapes.
On being told he did not, said: "Well then, give me a pair of ear muffs."
Showing plainly he was determined to enjoy some of the luxuries of life.

Harry Anderson, of Ames, Iowa, but formerly of this place, is on a visit here to his mother and other relatives. He thinks of staying in Louisville for a while.

Joe B. Reid has returned from a visit to Charleston, Mo., where he spent a pleasant week with his brothers, Mrs. Leech and Charles Reid, and other relatives.

Mrs. Vina Miller, (nee Seebold), departed this Feb. 27, and was buried in the Jeffersonian cemetery, Feb. 28. She leaves a husband, John
C. Miller, three daughters, Mrs. Addie Hebel, of Louisville, Misses Dollie and Mattie Miller, and two sons, Leslie and Lee, besides a host of friends to mourn her loss. Our sympathies are with the father and children in their sad bereavement.

Mrs. Julia Cartwright has returned to her home from Louisville where she has been nursing her son, Coleman, who is still an invalid from typhoid fever, contracted in Georgia where he was pursuing his profession of civil engineering. He is on the improve, but slowly. While in the city, he and his mother were at the home of his sister, Mrs. Fred Wed-kemper's, on East Broadway.

Having read a few days ago that a diet of fish would strengthen the brain, we spoke of the matter to our doctor and asked him what amount and how often should we indulge.
After quite a sober look and a little hesitation, he said that in our case he thought a couple of small whales would do. Now do you reckon the doctor was joking?

What is a "Delightful Entertainment?" Our answer is, three ladies, two cakes and a salad—and a lot of the latest gossip.

What is a new item? Would say that it is something that you want others to know that is of benefit to many. But some seem to think it is a chance to let others know of some thing that will humiliate some one, or draw attention to their self-confessed knowledge.

The old man was reading the news.
A reading the news was his wife.
When he said unto his good old wife,
"Say what can this thing be?"

"You old crank, you blind crank.
And can't you see well yourself?
It's a choice bit of poetry."
From the pen of El De-Be.

"Books I have read, ma'am.
Yes! a thousand books or more,
And never saw such 'Trunk' as this.
Called poetry before."
(Borrowed.)

In a former "batch" sent to The Jeffersonian we spoke of it in this way—
"lest he busts." El-De-Be says it should be she, not he. Will you please tell me what was "Jeffersonian" male or female?

Remember well what is said.
That rhymes are sometimes hard to find.
And some go all the route to Smyrna
To find a rhyme to suit authors.

Alas! how times have changed since our young days, something like a half century ago. Then when neighbors visited they went and stayed all day.
Had a fine dinner of everything the season afforded, plenty of apples and walnuts, together with cider and ginger cakes for lunch; spoke a good word for every one; wore a neat comfortable dress; took the children along and made them mind and wait for the second table before they got to eat; taught to say "Mr. and Mrs. to say No, Sir, and Yes, Sir; to eat what was given them and not to stay all day ready to do as they were told—and wait the time to go home when pap and mother were ready to go.
But note the difference of to-day—visitors are not for sociability, but for style, and a big dinner, and about three hours' stay. Cakes and fancy dishes that no one knows anything about (and a fine thing they don't maybe), a constant chatter about this one and that one; dressed like a queen in the latest, and as uncon-fortable as a hen on a hot rock; wishing every moment was the next to get home and change to a kimono, and see no one. Pap stays at home, as he draws the line at high collars and peg-topped patent leathers, and can't eat angel food or Marguerites, and children—"dirt" their pictures—they can't go, for they have to eat at first table, and have such manners; do as they please, and always contrary to others' wishes, and as soon as they get their "tank" full, finish tormenting the fat or pup, break a souvenir or two, they say, "mam, let's go home," and the goes.

It appears as if every writer of The Jeffersonian has anything to say about O. G. Whizz (except the old friend J. R. Z.). Even the editor tries to "flatter" us, whilst El De-Be tries to "flatter" us. Now, if we have tired the tender feelings of any one, please let the fact be known who it is and we will send them a "hunch" of consolation to set down and use as a liniment for their injuries. We do not aim to hurt nor insult any one, but should the shot go astray and become a "ruckus," we ask to be pardoned for our "blatant" error to our "non de plume." We do not claim to be a master of Belles-lettres, or a Cherisher for politeness, but move along and aim to attend to our own "Biz," so under the belief that we will live just so long, and that "people" will have as good an opinion of us as if we tried to attend to the "Biz" of others. O. G. Whizz.
